Personal information means information relating to living individuals who can be identified from that information, such as names, email addresses, personal home addresses, personal phone numbers, personal descriptions, etc. ("Personal Information").

This policy describes how this personal data must be collected, handled and stored to meet the organisation's data protection standards – and to comply with the law.

GACC ("we", "our", "us") is committed to protecting and respecting Personal Information. We will treat Personal Information securely.

The Data Protection Act 1998 describes how organisations – including GACC – must collect, handle and store Personal Information.

These rules apply regardless of whether data is stored electronically, on paper or any other materials.

To comply with the law, Personal Information must be collected and used fairly, stored safely and not disclosed unlawfully.

The Data Protection Act is underpinned by eight important principles. These say that personal information must:

- 3 Be adequate, relevant and not excessive
- 4 Be accurate and kept up to date
- 5 Not to be held for any longer than necessary
- 6 Be processed in accordance with the rights of data subjects
- 7 Be protected in appropriate ways
- 8 Not be transferred outside the European Economic Area (EEA), unless that country
- 9 or territory also ensures an adequate level of protection .

WHY THIS POLICY EXISTS

This data policy ensures GACC:

- 1 Complies with data protection law and follows good practice
- 2 Protects the rights of members, supporters, staff and other interested individuals
- 3 Is open about how it stores and processes individuals' data
- 4 Protects itself from the risks of data breach
